

LONG YEARS AGO

June 28, 1903

Work on the Liesemer residence has commenced.

An epidemic of Scarlet Fever is breaking out and new cases are reported almost daily.

The men working on the cellar at the hotel held a conference, formed a union, and went on strike last Wednesday, demanding higher wages, shorter hours and more booze. The higher wage demand was granted and the men are back at work.

Crops are looking fine and the prospects for an abundant crop is great. Breeding for fall wheat is nearing completion.

Mr. J.S. Ferguson was inducted by the Calgary Presbytery into the pastoral charge of Didsbury, Calgary and Dog Pound at a special service in Didsbury last Tuesday.

The Blood Donor Clinic held on Wednesday and Thursday of last week was most successful, the only disappointing feature being that 92 responded to the call for donations. The donating of blood is still a very important matter. The military hospitals throughout Canada require a large amount of plasma. The local branch tenders thanks and appreciation to the Board of Managers of the Evangelical church for the splendid accommodation, to Dr. Epp, the nurses, Mr. Wilner Reist, all those who contributed, and all those men and women who did so much to make the Clinic the success it was.

The Fallen Timber school will hold its annual picnic on Friday afternoon, July 6th.

Three weeks without any rain more than a sprinkle is a record for the district this time of year.

Rev. Mrs. C.B. Moore of Calgary will hold her regular two-month service on Sunday next in the Fallen Timber school at 1:00 p.m.

TROOPER JACK BOOKER, PRISONER OF WAR, COMES HOME

"We Landed at Dawn" is the title of a book describing the Dieppe Raid, that epic of Canadian heroism. It was a hard, vicious, tragic landing. "The dawn came up like thunder" over the coast of France.

We landed at dawn on Monday. The sky in the East was a soft saffron pink. The sun was just about to rise on a glorious summer day. Didsbury slept. The elevators like huge prehistoric ducks deiced over their brood; a picture of exquisite peace.

We did not land in a Tank, but in a little old tin bizzie, which chugged merrily up the rise of the hill into the little old home town. Trip Jack Booker, hero of Dieppe and long years in prisoner of war camps in Germany, came home. His father and mother landed with him. We have never seen such proud and happy parents, and the people of Didsbury join with them in the welcome home to Jack.

Each For All

IN HIS MESSAGE TO THE MEN of the First Canadian Army on V-E Day, General Crerar said in part: "Each for all" has been the guiding principle of the Canadian army in battle. That same principle is the essential one to which we must adhere if we are to assure the life and growth of democratic government in the world; that community system which has been so eloquently described by Abraham Lincoln as "government of the people by the people for the people." "Soldiers of Canada have worked to it in war. Citizens of Canada can do no less in peace." Although this message was directed to the troops, all Canadians would do well to consider the thoughts expressed there, and to reflect on how the application of that guiding principle, "each for all," might be used to bring about peacetime achievements comparable to those made by our men who fought so splendidly in Europe.

A New Chapter In Our History

When members of the armed forces return to civilian life, and our war industries are converted to peacetime production, we shall be commencing a new chapter in the history of this country. Many young men and women, coming out of the services will be entering business or professional life for the first time and they will also, for the first time, assume the responsibilities of citizenship under peacetime conditions. Others, who were established in their work before the war, will return with a new outlook on many problems. The magnificent record of the Canadians on the fighting fronts has demonstrated their capacity for accomplishing great things. At home our resources have been organized to give support to the armed forces and there have been outstanding achievements in connection with production, scientific developments and many other matters. In all this we have worked to preserve our own freedom and that of the other Allied countries. We must realize that the same energy, interest and cooperation will be needed if our future is to be secure.

People Should Use Franchise

The principle "each for all" has many applications to the conduct of affairs in time of peace. In a democracy the government reflects the will of the people. In Canada, there is every opportunity for the people to elect the government they prefer, and through that government, to determine the domestic and foreign policy. Statistics show, however, that on too many occasions large numbers of the people fail to register their votes in municipal, provincial and federal elections. If there is to be true democracy here, and if each citizen is to assume his or her full responsibility, we must begin by taking a deep interest in public affairs and by exercising our franchise at every opportunity. There are other domestic problems, including public health, education and unemployment which could profitably be approached from this point of view of "each for all." It has its application also to racial and religious tolerance both at home and abroad. Great possibilities lie ahead, but the responsibility for developing them lies with the people.

SMILE AWHILE

Sign in the window of a West Coast beauty salon: "Don't whistle at the girls when they leave this Salon. One of them may be your grandmother."

"What did the call say to the lady?"
"I don't know."
"Is my father in there?"

Jones: "Heaven bless him! He showed confidence in me when the clouds were dark and threatening."
Robinson: "In what way?"
"He lent me an umbrella."

Professor: "What is the most potent poison?"
Student: "An airplane; one drop and you're dead."

June: "Who was that man I saw kissing you in the hotel foyer?"
Julia: "I couldn't just place him at the time, but he seemed to know me pretty well."

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—Has the restriction been removed on trucks which limited trucks to a travelling distance of 35 miles from their home address?
A.—The 35-mile limit on the operation of trucks has been removed. Restrictions also have been removed on wholesale and retail deliveries, pickups and deliveries by laundries and dry cleaners, and the use of vehicles by theatres for advertising purposes. Each retailer may now establish his own value limitation on deliveries.

Q.—Has rim fire ammunition been removed from the rationing controls?
A.—Rim fire ammunition may now be purchased without a permit from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. The rim fire ammunition consists almost entirely of 22 calibre cartridges, though small quantities of 25 and 32 calibre rim fire ammunition are produced and these are also removed from the ration list.

Q.—What is the coupon value for maple syrup?
A.—Until May 31st each preserves coupons was good for 10 fluid ounces of maple syrup. Starting June 1st coupon value for maple syrup is reduced to its former value of 24 fluid ounces.

Q.—May civilians now purchase air force and naval officers' shirts?
A.—Yes, civilians may now purchase shirts which were previously sold only to officers of the armed services.

Please send your questions or your request for a booklet "Customers' News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your rationing prices, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Dame Of Sark

Peasants Carried On Under Five Years Of German Occupation

The tiny island of Sark and its population of 300 peasants remained during five years of German occupation, under the benevolent feudal rule of the 60-year-old Dame of Sark.

Liberated British forces expected to find the islanders of some 300 Germans, led by an ardent Nazi captain, had ravaged the island. Instead, they learned that the sharp-witted Dame of Sark had kept her charges almost completely free of interference by the Germans. The Dame, who is "Madame" to the reverent islanders, operates her island efficiently and democratically under the old English feudal system. Her grant to the island dates back to the time of Queen Elizabeth who gave it to a Jersey man, Holier De Carteret.

Weather Causes

Has Now Become A Science. So That We Can Predict Changes

By understanding the causes of weather and its actions we have learned to adjust ourselves to its moods. Now we can predict what will happen and when it will come. Frost, rain, wind and flood are foreseen and the necessary defenses made. The orange-grower is warned of frost, and he makes ready his smudge pots to blanket the groves with smoke. Airplanes are dispatched along the route. We have always had the weather with us, but now it is a science and meteorology has become big business. Calgary Herald.

Report Gratifying

Germans Respected Cemeteries And Memorials In France And Belgium

Sir Fabian Ware and his colleagues of the Imperial War Graves Commission are able to give a gratifying account of the state of its cemeteries and memorials in France and Belgium after the German occupation. They were respected by the enemy and, thanks also to the care of the French and Belgian authorities, can soon be restored. Our cemetery at Cologne is also found to be in good condition. All this greatly lightens the work of repair and will hasten the work of making new cemeteries for the dead of this war, the commission's latest charge. It is a melancholy task performed with reverence and attention to architectural and horticultural beauty, and some of our best architects contribute to making these memorials worthy of our fallen. Happily the commission has not been stinted of funds; the governments of the commonwealth have contributed in proportion and there is no fear that the monuments will fall into neglect.—Manchester Guardian.

MEET A CWAC—

"Someone has to stay at home I guess," says Mrs. Emma Atkinson, Togo, Sask. Emma, one of a family of six service members, all of them in khaki, is the only one still in Canada. One of her brothers was taken prisoner at Hong Kong, three others served in the Western Front as did also their sister, Alice, one of a company of CWACs in Belgium. Emma is extremely proud of her brothers and sisters. Of course she'd like to be over there with them, but as long as she can't be, she is determined to do a bang-up job of "carrying on" in Canada. Emma enlisted in the CWAC in December, 1942. She received her basic training at Vermilion, a clerk's course in Edmonton and since that time has been posted in Regina. Very fond of sports, her chief hobby, however, is fancy work. Reading, music and nature study come high on her list of "things I like to study and do".

Promoted—Pte. Joyce Hilda Wick, Kerrobert, Sask., has been promoted to the rank of lance corporal at Camp Borden, Ont., where she is now stationed. L.Cpl. Vick enlisted at Winnipeg in February, 1943. Following her basic training at Vermilion, Alta., she was posted to Camp Borden as a storewoman where she has been employed since.

Graduates—Several Western girls were including the latest clerks' course graduating class at No. 3 CWAC (B) T.C. at Kitchener, Ont. Among them were Ptes. E. J. Amund, Mossbank, Sask.; M. Billkret, Theodore, Sask.; G. E. Brady, McCreary, Man.; J. T. Czech, Raymond, Alta.; E. A. Bowman, Regina; C. E. Edwards, Taber, Alta.; M. E. Griffiths, Calgary; D. J. Harvey, Yorkton, Sask.; N. E. Jones, Edmonton; M. J. M. Low, Riverhurst, Man.; A. E. P. H. Chey, Sask.; S. M. Hunt, Vancouver; I. Kirschman, Edmonton; and M. F. McBeth, Calgary.

YOU NEVER KNOW—

Cpl. Evelyn Watson, Belleville, Ont., started out to study cooking. She ended up in front of a camera. It all started when an Army photographer attended the cooking class to take some pictures for publicity purposes. When the negatives were developed one of the students was spotted as being a decidedly photogenic type. The "type" was identified as Corporal Watson and she was promptly enrolled in the list of CWAC models, on call for special publicity purposes. Her first assignment was to pose for a colour photo to be reproduced as the cover of a popular magazine. A former student operator, Cpl. Watson enlisted in May, 1943. On completion of basic training at Kitchener, Ont., she attended the army stenographic course at Ottawa and Toronto. She is now employed as clerk typist at the Dir. of Rehabilitation, N.D.H.Q.

Record Hog Output

Major Increases Shown In Two Western Provinces

Of the record quantity of meat produced in Canada in 1944, Swift Canadian Co. Limited handled 16.2 per cent. J. H. Tapley, President, states in the company's annual report to employees just issued.

In 1944, Canadian pork production reached an all-time peak. Mr. Tapley pointed out. Total hog marketings across Canada jumped from 3,705,000 in 1939 to 8,453,000 in 1944, a rise of 142 per cent.

"Based on data published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and the Dominion Department of Agriculture, of total slaughtering of cattle, calves, hogs, sheep and lambs during the year 1944," said Mr. Tapley, "Swift Canadian Co. Limited, processed 16.3 per cent. of the total number of head of livestock slaughtered in Canada, or on the basis total pounds of meat produced last year our company handled 16.2 per cent."

Mr. Tapley also announced that a total of $2,000 in cash awards was received by 203 employees who had made acceptable suggestions under the Employees' Suggestion Plan.

He noted that 1,222 employees had gone into the armed services and recalled with regret that 31 of these had either been killed in action or died in service, five were missing in action and eight were prisoners of war.

"Our ability to meet the heavy wartime demand for food, and our achievement in handling record quantities at a time when many of our experienced employees are in the armed forces," said Mr. Tapley, "is a tribute to the efforts of all who remained behind at their jobs."

Bomb Campaign

Seven Thousand Guns Operated On Britain's East Coast

Seven thousand guns were arrayed on Britain's east coast when the second flying bomb campaign began in September in 1944. It was revealed in an official announcement that the Germans launched 1,609 buzz bombs between Sept. 5 and the end of March, 1945. Anti-aircraft guns knocked down 407 and the R.A.F. claimed another 76. The Royal Navy was credited with 13 flying bombs.

Some Details Of Britain's War Achievements In Respect To Salvage And Harbor Clearance

"BRITAIN will have, on the termination of hostilities, the finest and largest fleet of salvage ships and crafts available anywhere, a great amount of special equipment and surplus skilled and experienced salvage personnel," declared Captain J. B. Pollard, Chief Technical Officer of the Salvage Department of the British Admiralty, in a recent lecture to the Royal United Service Institution. Following are some details of Britain's war achievements in salvage and harbor clearance.

The extent of the work of the Admiralty's salvage and rescue tug service is indicated by the fact that from September, 1932, to December, 1941, these organizations salvaged over 6,000 tons of cargo and 1,000 men, that is a tonnage about equal to the total tonnage of the United Kingdom in the same period; the importance of this work is underlined by the losses of British merchant shipping up to the end of 1941 (11,500,000 gross tons compared with a pre-war total tonnage for the merchant marine of 17,500,000). The necessity for providing salvage services all over the world wherever Allied shipping is exposed to enemy attack quickly brought into being a salvage organization with ships and bases in the United Kingdom, Iceland, the Faroes, the Mediterranean, Africa, and India. Its scope is now being extended also to the Pacific.

Each ship or base is manned by divers, riggers, shipwrights, and mechanics, equipped with all kinds of salvage plant and engineering stores, making each an independent unit capable of dealing promptly and efficiently with any salvage job arising, whether of an ice-bound ship in the Arctic or of a vessel helpless in the Indian ocean. The differing conditions from place to place necessitated the provision of differing equipment, e.g. in the United Kingdom the lifting and removal of wrecks is assisted by tides, whereas in the tideless Mediterranean entirely different equipment is required. In British coastal waters a temporary timber patch over damaged shipwrecks is sufficient, but for a voyage from Iceland or North Africa to a dry dock in the United Kingdom something more substantial is needed.

Immediately facilities were available the Admiralty proceeded to build two types of salvage tug (rescue going and coastal), three types of dumb lifting lighter, and one type of submersible pontoon (or camel). Experience has shown that all these are admirably adapted to the task. In 1939 the new British designs for portable salvage pumps were produced, embodying the latest improvements in internal combustion engines and pumping machinery.

A new type of submersible pump for draining, driven by a portable air compressor which delivers compressed air at 100 pounds pressure, providing and restoring buoyancy to the ship's compartments, also works pumpable tools and air hoses to the water, and portable air winches; it can be harnessed to the ship's steam winches. A new electric Oxyacetylene torch and electric arc process for underwater welding, and the Cox submerged belt-driven gun are some of Britain's contributions to salvage equipment. The Cox gun can also be used to fire a hollow bolt into the side of a compartment for the introduction of compressed air and is far quicker than the ordinary pneumatic drill for punching holes. It is extensively used for the repair of tanks and other armored vehicles in the field.

The operation of these many new types of equipment has made it necessary for British divers to be more highly skilled and trained than ever before. From the outbreak of war the development of modern aircraft made it comparatively easy for the enemy to block the highways of British ports by sinking ships by bombs or mines. During the London blitz of 1940 the Admiralty salvage department carried out much speedy work under difficult conditions, to keep the London docks clear of such obstructions.

Similarly, elsewhere at one British port in 1941, nine mine sweepers were raised in 13 days. But from 1912 onwards, the harbor clearance work of the British Navy came forward into the main picture of war operations as the German U-boats, described by the late Admiral Ramsey as "the best port demolishers in the world," did all in their power to deny the Allies the use of port facilities in North Africa, Sicily, Italy, the south of France, and the United States.

At Tripoli, 11 ships of one to five thousand tons were sunk in a line across the harbor entrance, with a tangled mass of wrecks of smaller craft and crane barges piled on top. It was almost impossible to get a mine sweeper through. But first one of the block ships was disintegrated with

Distaff Side Of Airline Honoured

Five years service with Trans-Canada Air Lines, the longest period of any feminine employee of the company, was rewarded recently when Miss Helen Brown, passenger agent at Lethbridge, Alta., was presented with a five-year service pin on behalf of the company. Miss Brown was born and educated in Ottawa and graduated in nursing from the Civic Hospital there in 1938. She followed the nursing profession for two years before joining T.C.A. as a stewardess. In that capacity, she served between Windsor, Toronto, Winnipeg, Lethbridge, and Vancouver until 1942 when she became passenger agent at Lethbridge.

Timed to coincide with the presentation, a teletype message from the Vice-President of Trans-Canada Air Lines, W. F. English, was read to Miss Brown by E. W. Stull, Pacific Superintendent of T.C.A., who made the presentation. "Please convey to Miss H. Brown the congratulations of the entire company as the first female member of T.C.A. to complete five years of continuous service. She not only achieves personal distinction but proves that it has taken more than mere miles to build the airline." Miss Brown is shown in the above picture receiving her five-year service pin and gifts from Mr. Stull.

CANADIAN COST OF LIVING IN TWO WARS

Stability of prices is no accident. It is the result of an organized and coordinated effort on part of the Canadian people. This effort to date has been sufficient to control enormous inflationary pressures. These pressures are still very great. The record of the last war shows that the danger of inflation is bound to continue after the end of hostilities and that the people of Canada should continue their individual fight to keep prices under control.

Records of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board amply demonstrate that inflation can be prevented so long as the people of Canada give determined support to stabilization measures. Under the leadership of Donald Gordon, the chairman of the Prices Board, Canadians have shown world leadership in the control of prices (above) reveal. That chart shows

Effective Methods Adopted For The Control And Eradication Of Persistent Perennial Weeds

Perennial weeds, those that propagate and spread by both seed and root, or underground stems after once becoming established are difficult to eradicate, says H. E. Wood, a member of The National Weed Committee. Perennial weeds from the standpoint of control, are divided into two groups: One is termed "deep-rooted and persistent." Belonging to this group are Leafy Spurge, Field Bindweed, Hoary Cress, Russian Knapweed, Larkspur, Campanula, and Poverty Weed. In Western Canada, in regions districts, one or more of these weeds have become serious problems. These weeds cannot be controlled by even very good farming operations. Control and often eradication can be obtained by following special methods.

The cheapest and most effective methods of eradicating any one of the deep-rooted persistent perennial weeds in small and scattered patches is by the application of chemical. Sodium chlorate or Alachlor, the trade name, has been in use for many years and is regarded as the most effective of the several chemicals in use.

Generally speaking, the use of chemical will be found more effective if placed in the hands of trained officials with proper equipment, rather than to depend upon an individual farmer to look after his own problem. In the Province of Manitoba, several municipalities are grouped together as Weed Control Units. Each Unit with its own equipment employs a spray crew that does all chemical treatment within the Unit. Success in eradicating small and scattered patches of these weeds has been attained by this plan.

When extensive infestations of deep-rooted persistent perennial weeds are met with, control by chemical becomes too expensive. If the land is of sufficient worth to merit intensive cultivation, this method of control should be followed. If, however, the soil is very poor, as of such a nature as to blow easily, cultivation should not be tried.

In adopting a program of "intensive cultivation" the underlying principle of thorough work, regularity of operations and cultivation carried over a sufficiently long period, must be observed. Under certain conditions, especially if soil drifting becomes a hazard, it may be advisable after one season's cultivation to seed to a quick growing crop such as barley. The field should be cultivated immediately before the crop is seeded. Again, immediately after the crop is harvested, cultivation should continue and continue until freeze-up and through the following year. Fall rye may also be used where drifting is likely to be a problem during the winter.

Control of deep-rooted perennial weeds on marginal and sub-marginal land presents a difficult problem. Mowing to prevent seed setting should be encouraged. Pasturing, especially with sheep, offers possibilities. Where such systems appear to be able to compete with even the most persistent deep-rooted perennial weeds.

Cannot Be Moved

Goring's bathtub will never be carted away as souvenir. American soldiers investigating the Berchtesgaden hideouts of the fallen Nazi leaders came across one item in party Hermann Goering's villa which could not be carted away as a souvenir. It was Goering's bathtub. Large enough to accommodate two men comfortably, it was flown down from Berlin in one of the Luftwaffe's bombers. Too big to go through the doors or the windows of the house, the tub had to be hoisted in with a crane after part of a wall had been torn out—New York Herald Tribune.

RECORD LAUNCHINGS

From Sept. 3, 1939, to March 31, 1943, 263 merchant vessels of 1,651,216 tons were launched from the shipbuilding yards on the Clyde, Scotland. The total number of merchant ships launched on the Clyde and at East of Scotland yards from the beginning of the war to March 31, 1943, is given as 456 vessels, of an aggregate tonnage of 2,167,886.

SUB COMMANDER IN CHIEF

Caused By Bombs

Women in Britain losing their hair due to shock.

Although they kept their heads under air attack, some British women are finding great difficulty in keeping their hair. As a result, there is a boom in the sale of wigs, toupees and artificial curls to women and girls whose hair is falling out due to shock caused by the V-bombs and the earlier blitzes on England.

All the leading wigmakers have had their stocks booked up until the end of the year. Priority is being given to genuine V-bomb victims in preference to women who wear wigs just for vanity.

A doctor stated that the medical profession does not know the reason why people lose their hair through shock, but in most cases only women are affected.

The Hamilton Spectator says the sinking of a Japanese cruiser of 10,000 tons off the Malay peninsula by British naval and air units helps to avenge the loss of the Prince of Wales and the Repulse in those waters earlier in this war.

THE DIDSBURY FAIR—WED., JULY 18

The Board of Directors of The Didsbury Agricultural Society are now at work preparing for the 40th annual exhibition to be held at Didsbury on Wednesday, July 18, and the prize list will be ready for distribution this week.

The local exhibition is one of the most influential enterprises designed to promote better agricultural and home economic displays, and at the same time bring together for exhibition purposes the finest that can be produced in the Didsbury district.

The local fair has always been well patronized by the people and exhibits in the various classes have been fairly numerous, although not always numerous enough. This year the Board of Directors hopes that the fair will be "bigger and better than ever," and if this hope is to be realized our farmers and townspeople should plan now to enter exhibits in as many classes as possible. By doing so they will not only create greater interest in the exhibits, but will also have more interest themselves in Didsbury's annual Fair.

FUTURE TRAVEL BY AIR

At least one of Britain's most famous shipping companies is planning to scrap all first-class accommodation in its future ships, in the belief that after the war passengers who once paid for first-class tickets will want to travel by air instead.

The company in question hopes itself to supply the air liners for them. Its surface ships of the future will enter almost entirely for cargo.

Limited passenger accommodation will be offered at relatively low rates for people who like sea travel for its own sake.

While future traffic across our oceans will no doubt have a trend toward air travel, it must be remembered that hundreds of thousands of people are still not air-minded and will not travel by air. To offset this, air line companies will have to inaugurate a large educational program preparatory to commencing air operations on an extensive scale. The old adage that "you can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink" is just as true in human nature. You can build modern, safe airliners, but you can't make all travellers believe they are fool-proof.

CANADIAN PRISONERS FREED

By the end of May, three weeks after Germany's unconditional surrender, 5,085 Canadian prisoners of war had been released, leaving only 184 unaccounted for. Most of these were probably prisoners who escaped from the lines of men being marched back from the front. The number of prisoners in the Far East remains at 1,504.

The Old, Old Story

It was with great satisfaction that we read a statement issued by the Dominion Experimental Station, Lethbridge, to the effect that if farmers fail to control soil drifting, the necessary measures will, some day, have to be enforced. We are apt to forget that democracy entails personal responsibility as well as privilege. Too often we sidestep the former and cling to the latter. Soil drifting has been very serious in parts of Western Canada this year. It should be recognized as a prelude to catastrophe and given the widest possible publicity; but, probably because we are ashamed of it, little is spoken by radio and little written in the press.

It is annoying and costly to the farmer to have his seed blown out or seedlings cut to pieces with drifting sand. The most patient and long-suffering housewife may be had company when floors and furniture are covered with layers of soil, and when pantries and clothes cupboards become dust bins. But these experiences are trivial in comparison with the permanent damage done to productive soils.

Government agriculturists are almost always conservative in their claims; but over and over again officials of the Dominion Department of Agriculture have declared that soil drifting can be controlled. The recent warning from Lethbridge is timely and we dare not disregard it.

Colonel (after reviewing troops): "Hang it all. What's the idea of parading all the big men in front of the little men?"
Lieut.: "It's the sergeant's fault. He used to run a fruit stand."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Editor, Didsbury Pioneer.

Dear Sir:—I would like a place in your paper to present to the people of Didsbury and the surrounding districts a few thoughts on the temperance question.

I know there is quite a number of people in our town and communities who are definitely in favor of temperance, and yet we see very little on this subject in our paper and hear very few discussions on the matter. However, practically any day of the week, and particularly Saturday night there is plenty of evidence that there are great numbers of men and women who are most definitely victims of alcoholic beverages.

Not long ago in our town of Didsbury I saw three small children, a girl of about eight years, and a smaller girl and boy of about three and two years, walking along the street. The smaller girl was crying loudly, and when asked where her mother was, the older girl replied, "she's in the beer parlor". This is only one instance. Tragedies of this nature and far greater tragedies, are taking place somewhere every day. The evils of our communities spread throughout our provinces and dominion, and in turn throughout the world.

Are our boys in the armed forces going to come home to families that are happy, pure and clean, or are they going to find their homes broken up and their families scattered. Things like this are happening because of drinking and, one of its associates, immoral conduct. What can we do about it? As devout believers in temperance, and by that I mean total abstinence, let us make our views known and then stand firm for what we believe.

To those of you who are harming your bodies, minds and souls with the use of alcoholic beverages, let me quote from God's word, Romans 12:1. "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, hold acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service".
Thank you, Mr. Editor, for allowing me this place in your paper.
MRS. LLOYD McCNIC

HELP ON THE FARMS
(By Major H.G.L. Strange)

In spite of the fact that one half of our food is produced on the farms, it is still, and is likely to be for the whole of this year, a serious shortage of labour on Western farms. The hungry people of Europe and almost all countries are clamouring for food. Then there are still great needs of food by our own and our Allies' Armed Forces.
While we have plenty of wheat in Canada, there is, even in the United States and Canada, a shortage of livestock and livestock products, because of their high nutritional value, that are needed most by the Armed Forces and by European people. The production of livestock, and livestock products, as we all know, requires more labour than the production of grains alone. The amount of grains, therefore, that will be fed to livestock will depend, to some extent, at least, upon the labour available.
The past war years have shown that students from high schools and universities, during their vacations, have helped in producing livestock and livestock products by working on our prairie farms. I suggest that students once again this year should consider making this same important and valuable contribution to Canada's war effort. Life on a farm during the summer is agreeable and interesting, and the work will not be found to be too hard.

NEW COAL HEATERS

A new and economic method of household heating which requires only one coal fire for four rooms has been developed by a British inventor. The principle of the system is utilization of waste gases from the ordinary coal fire. The heater is similar in appearance to a normal grate, but the gases are passed through a radiator which heats a panel facing the adjacent room.

CANADA ALLOTTED FIVE PER CENT OF WORLD SUGAR

Increase in beet sugar production in Canada will not add any appreciable amount to the stock of sugar available to Canadian consumers. Wartime Prices and Trade Board officials point out, commenting on the suggestion made in some quarters that a cut in the Canadian sugar ration might have been avoided by doubling the Canadian acreage in sugar beets.

The world supply of sugar has been pooled under an agreement between Britain, Canada and the United States. Given an allotment on the same per capita basis as the other two countries, Canada is allowed five per cent of the world's supply.

While an increase in beet sugar production in Canada would slightly increase the total amount of sugar in the world, lower now than in previous years, this increase would have to be shared with the other nations drawing from the sugar pool. Consequently, Canada's share would be very small, possibly about 1.50 of a pound per person per year.

FRENCH LOSSES GREAT

One hundred and thirty-five thousand and dead on the field of battle, 55,000 killed before firing squads, 100,000 patriots who have died in enemy camps or prisons, two million prisoners and deportees, 1,200, 000 houses destroyed, ports and trains demolished, the suffering by a whole nation of occupation, oppression and famine — that is the contribution in blood and distress which France has made to this war in the cause of liberty.

1500 CARS OF WHEAT DAILY

The prairie provinces of Canada are now witnessing an exodus of wheat which is likely to clean out most of the reserves that have been stored up in country elevators and annexes during the war years. The wheat board is aiming at shipping 1500 cars of grain a day from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta which, at the average of forty cars per train, would represent some 37 trains daily.

During the war years grain piled up at interior terminals and country elevators. In order to accommodate the large caravans, the accommodation of country elevators was increased by the building of annexes and the utilization of suitable empty buildings in towns and villages. In this way storage for about 173 million bushels of grain was provided.

Now the war is over and hungry Europe is crying for food. Canada is undertaking a movement of wheat from the prairie, down the Great Lakes and across the Atlantic on a grand scale.

WHERE CANADA EXCELS

Although it is not generally well known, two other metals besides iron possess magnetic properties—nickel and cobalt. Canada is the world's greatest producer of nickel;
the town of Cobalt in Ontario was named after the large deposits of metal located there; and Steep Rock, a subterranean iron mine in Western Ontario which was only uncovered after the entire lake was diverted, is now producing iron which rivals the famous Swedish iron.

JOBLESS UNEMPLOYMENT
FUND $270,000,000

Canada's unemployment insurance fund has reached the $270, 000,000 mark, and is growing at the rate of more than $5,000,000 every month.

Some 3,000,000 Canadians are insured under the Unemployment Insurance Act.

So far, unemployment insurance benefits paid out total about six million dollars.

NOW IS THE TIME TO DELIVER
YOUR WHEAT
THROUGH
POOL ELEVATORS

For the remainder of the present crop year, that is, up to July 31, farmers may deliver any quantity of wheat they wish. After July 31, however, the 1945-46 delivery quota of 14 bushels per authorized acre will be in effect. This quota, set by the Wheat Board, will apply throughout the province and deliveries will be definitely limited to the amounts allowed to each farmer under it.

Now is the time, therefore, to get your wheat delivered, unless you wish to keep it to your farm as a reserve. The place to take it is to your local Pool elevator. It is your elevator, built by you to give service at cost. It will be to your advantage to use it.

in serious crop losses, too? No farmer can afford to take chances like these when it's so easy to protect tires against failure. Just drive in to your Imperial Atlas dealer. He will carefully inspect your tires... check them for cuts,

Experiment Ended

Pagan City Hitler Started Is Just Another Failure

Hitler's "strength through joy automobile city" a mile from Fallersleben, now is a picture of a vast dream shattered.

Here Hitler started what he boasted would become the world's largest automobile plant, and he made the new city an experiment in attempting to eradicate Christianity.

Hitler promised that every worker would be in a position to become the owner of an air-conditioned, four-cylinder, 24-horsepower, five-seater flivver, beginning in the last months of 1939.

The price for this people's car was fixed at 990 marks (about $296), and a special workweek savings bank could pay as little as five marks monthly.

War broke out at the time fixed by Hitler for delivery of the first cars. No worker received his promised car, and his savings account was credited to the war loan. Only a few production units are intact enough to make a few cars daily for Allied military purposes.

Germany's youngest city also is doomed. Here Hitler was determined that citizens and especially children should be reared in Nazi paganism.

No churches were permitted, but instead a community house was erected as the city's centre of "religious activities". There, for instance, the ceremony of "name giving" as a substitute for Christian baptism was held.

That experiment also is ended.

Appointed To Senate

H. Captain Brewer Robinson was appointed to the Senate after serving with distinction as usual with his duties as Acting Overseas Manager of the Canadian Legion, when he heard of his appointment to the Canadian Senate.

The Captain's reaction was un-demonstrative. "It is nice," he said, "to know that I have friends at home."

Senator Robinson has many friends on both sides of the ocean. He has been active politically in his native province of Prince Edward Island a good part of his life, having held the mayor's chair in Summerside, as well as a seat in the P.E.I. Legislature. He served in France from 1915 to 1919 with the 2nd Heavy Battery during the last war, and during the years of peace associated himself extensively with the affairs of the Canadian Legion.

The Senator came overseas as Auxiliary Supervisor attached to the Cape Breton Highlanders, in the 5th Division. After serving with that unit in the United Kingdom, he transferred to the Personnel Service Canadian Legion, when he heard of his appointment to the Canadian Senate. Since the return of Mr. Basten to Canada a short while ago, Senator Robinson has been acting as Overseas Manager for the Legion. Senator Robinson feels that he will take with him to the Upper Chamber a considerable understanding of soldiers' problems, and how to deal with them. He fought with them in the last war and has served with them in this. He is convinced that the plans for the rehabilitation of Canadian servicemen and women far surpass those of any other country. The Senator's wife is at present working in a blood clinic in Montreal, but after the war they will probably divide their time between Ottawa and Summerside, where he is associated with the P.E.I. Fur Pool Limited, a company formed by the breeders of silver fox.

A Striking Tribute

U.S. General Bears Witness To Churchill's Grandeur Of Leadership

General George Marshall, United States Chief of Staff, in a message to Prime Minister Churchill, published in London, paid tribute to Mr. Churchill's "vast contribution to the re-establishment of peace in Europe."

Gen. Marshall said: "It has been a long and terrible road for you, sir, since the fall of France. I can bear personal witness to the grandeur of your leadership."

There will always be in my mind the breadth of your vision, and your generous attitude in effecting the co-ordination and crystallization of our combined plans. Personally I will cherish the friendship and confidence you gave me during the seemingly slow and tortuous progress to the most complete victory in modern history."

Mr. Churchill, in reply declared: "I am deeply grateful to you for the message with which you have honored me, although it is far beyond my deserts."

POULTRY FROM CANADA

Canada has already supplied in 1945 some 4,500,000 pounds of dressed poultry to the United States army as part of a 30,000,000 pounds commitment on a United States government contract the special products board announced at Ottawa.

About U-Boats

The Submarine Still Remains A Terrible Weapon

Germany ended the war with her submarine fleet almost as helpless as the Luftwaffe. It was beaten in many a battle by sea and land. At sea more than 500 enemy U-boats were destroyed. On land Allied forces closed relentlessly on the bases from which the wolf-packs issued. Isolated merchant vessels were being sunk even as V.E. Day dawned. But the final undersea "blitz" with which Admiral Dönitz planned to paralyze our Atlantic shipping was among the battles never fought. It was crushed before it got well started.

Nevertheless, Germany still had from 100 to 500 submarines when she surrendered. Of these 150 to 170 were in "operational status", though only about 50 or 60 were at sea. Virtually all were highly efficient craft, new 1,000-tonners fitted with the "schubkar" breathing mask" to permit submerged battery-charging and apparatus to battle our detection devices. Only 11 of the cruising fleet have surrendered thus far: a few may have escaped to Japan; others were probably lost in actions not definitely counted as victories.

Except for a few Japanese craft which penetrated the Atlantic and these now operating in the Pacific, the submarine is no longer a menace. But it remains one of the most terrible weapons ever devised by man. The submarine cannot successfully fight the submarine. No ship that floats can stand against its deadly torpedoes. No specific answer to it has yet been found. It was only by a combination of tactics in the slugs, in the air, on the surface and beneath the surface, and a pooling of Allied material and strategic resources that we were able to overcome it.

For a time, especially in the dark days of 1942, enemy U-boats seemed to be winning the war. All told, Germany launched more than a thousand of them. How many millions of shipping they sent to the bottom, two million tons in the first eleven months of the war, before they reached the height of their power, has never been fully revealed. But then we did, but at a cost of life and treasure the world will never forget.

Captured Year Ago Is Being Held At Pearl Harbor

The capture of what was claimed to be the only Japanese female sniper of the war to date was disclosed by Lt. Cmdr. Robert C. Downes, damage control officer of the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Franklin.

The prisoner, whom Downes described as 28 and attractive, was taken by marines about a year ago in the Marshalls.

"She was a tough little customer," he said.

Downes said she now was being held in a prison camp at Pearl Harbor.

Jealous Husband

— By —
MARCIA DAUGHTERY

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

"Tommy Anders going to the dinner tonight?"

Iris stared unblinkingly at her husband's grim profile as he let in the clutch and the sedan shot ahead. "I don't know."

"Lewis Alfred?"

"Oh, Gregg, what difference does it make? No matter who the extra man is, you'll be jealous of him. Sometimes I think you'd suspect me of making eyes at the Hunchback of Notre Dame."

Gregg parked and slid from under the wheel leaving the motor running. "Going to get some cigarettes and leave you to dream about . . ." his smile was tight-lipped. . . . who ever the guy is. And if I ever catch you with him, I'll blow his head off."

Relaxing with a sigh against the seat back, Iris thought, Gregg is getting psychopathic. I wonder how much longer I can stand this jealousy business.

She closed her eyes when she heard his brisk step on the street, and remained possum lidded as they crawled down the highway, turned the corner on whining tires and shot westward. "There's no sense in driving so fast," she complained.

"Keep your trap shut," ordered a strange voice.

Iris sat up as her heart leaped into the top of her head. The man at the wheel was young—not over 28—and there were hungry hollows beneath his cheek bones. A pulse was beating in his right temple; his skin was as tanned as the beard line, and below that the darkness of stubble turned cheeks and chin a muddy gray.

"What are you going to do with me?" Iris asked.

"I'm going to take you out the Speedway and dump you. You can walk back."

The Speedway traversed the worst alkali section in the state. There wouldn't be a farmhouse for miles. Iris could feel every individual hair on her head as if she were a cushion sprouting pins.

Then her kidnapper made a most astonishing statement. "I'm sorry to scare you, ma'am, but I had to have this car."

She couldn't speak.

"Had soap day before yesterday," he jerked. "In dish of soapy reveal the day before. I've a wife and kid, and they gotta eat. Not eligible for relief because I own half interest in a gas shovel."

Iris turned in the seat as the man stopped. "Listen, when I get to a telephone, I'll have to notify the police. You'll be stopped within two or three hours. But if you want to make an honest living, I know a way."

Something about the eloquent look of his eyes reminded Iris of a bearded dog that bears a friendly voice. "You wouldn't be pulling a fast one?" he gasped.

"No. This is sincere. My husband, who is chairman of the grounds committee at the country club, said they should get somebody to drain the lake and reclaim all the lead shot that has accumulated in the sludge. The shot is worth sixty-five dollars a ton, and after all these years of clay pigeon shooting, there ought to be a great deal. Gregg heard about a club in the east that did it, and was howled over by the profits. The club would want twenty per cent. of the income. But you have a shovel, and it seems to me . . ."

Her companion's lower lip hung lax. "Maybe it's a trap," he grunted, "but I'm game to find out. If it's O.K. with you, I'd like to talk to your husband tonight."

To prove his belief in her the man added, "You drive back to town." Stepping into the road, he circled the car and got in on the other side. "See, I gave you a chance to leave me if you were just fast-talking yourself out of a tough spot," he explained.

As they headed cityward, Iris recalled Gregg's final statement: "If I ever catch you with him, I'll blow his head off."

If Gregg saw her with this stranger he would shoot first and ask questions afterwards. "Try to be here in me, as I've already proved my belief in you," she began. Swiftly she explained her fear.

The man scrutinized her. "Is your old man right? Have you been cheating? No use lying to me, you know."

Iris' eyes met his. "No," she said, "there's never been any man for me but Gregg. I don't think there ever will be, because I happen to adore the big, lumbering, suspicious lug."

"That's good enough for me," said her companion. "You give me your husband's name and address and I'll show up at his office tomorrow morning. That will give you time to explain things to him, and if he's half as well as you are, I'm the luckiest sucker on earth."

"His cards are in that side compartment." He slipped one into his pocket. "You can let me out at the next corner, ma'am. Tomorrow morning is a deal."

At nine he walked into Gregg's office.

"If you think you're going to get paid . . .," he bellowed Gregg.

The man grinned. "I don't want your dirty money. You're going to give me a job to earn my cash honestly. I found out what you wanted to know without dumping her. That woman is four square, and no mistake, and if you don't give me the lake contract, I'll tell her that you figured her alleged boy friend was following your car last night. Also, that you suspected they were going on a private party after she dropped you at the club, and you hired me to find out. Give, big shot—give!"

More Important Now

Mail For Armed Forces Should Carry Complete Return Address

A complete return address on all mail for the armed forces is more important than ever at the present time. The movement of members of the armed forces will increase rather than diminish with personnel changing units, returning to Canada or proceeding from Canada overseas. All these movements complicate the delivery of their mail. Under these circumstances the postal authorities urge that a complete return address be placed on all mail to ensure its prompt return if undeliverable.

North America's tallest bird is the sandhill crane. When standing erect, the male is about as tall as the average man.

Who ever heard of a henipiel in July? Believed to be the first ever held in Canada, such a mid-summer event is scheduled for Nelson, B.C. This spirit will last four or five days, limited to a 5-rank entry with four main events. The Nelson Civic Centre is co-operating with the Curling Club in promoting the bonspiel. Artificial ice, of course, but it should attract lots of attention.

The Rosetown Eagle in Saskatoon makes this comment: "The sooner transportation to the United States can be found for those 24,000 English brides of American fighting men the better. A stipend of English girls is worth more than their weight in diplomats in cementing the bond of friendship between the people of the United States and Great Britain."

This is not bull: An auction sale of animals by Claude Gallinger of Totob, Alta., held at Edmonton, saw cattlemen from Saskatchewan, Alberta and the U.S. pay on the average $1700 each for 23 bulls, $1200 each for 11 heifers. Top price was $4200 for a yearling bull, a top heifer brought $2050.

Aye, well spoken: John Pinderose of Kamloops, B.C., speaking at a Chamber of Commerce meeting at Salmon Arm, said: "There are too many 'umbilic', British Columbians, Manitobans, Ontariobians and not enough Canadians in Canada. In the critical days to come, Canada will need all the Canadians she can get."

Tall stories not come from Cuthbert, Ont., because the industrial relations committee of the Chamber of Commerce has helped to make H. E. Edgar, of Peterborough located his new factory in Cuthbert. The new industry will manufacture fishing hooks, split rings, swivels and reels in the first unit of operation. It's a post-war industry, will employ 30. Such are springing up all over Canada.

V-E Day lines culled at random from the weekly press: There can be no question that our victory of today was divine intervention. . . . The Lord had done great things for us, whether we liked it or not. . . . Management and labor leaders have a difficult, critical job that requires the maximum of good sense, understanding and well-thought out policies. . . . If we can learn to live together and work together in the interests of everyone in peace as in war, years spent in danger were not in vain. . . . Meanwhile Canada has an important job in saving thousands from starvation by sending across the Atlantic all possible food supplies. . . . The expressions will vary in word and form, but the spirit of gratitude will be universal. . . . The annals of Time know no brighter day than this.

Fine tribute: At Baras Corners, N.S., Deacon Richard DeLong, at 81, finishes 30 years as Sunday school superintendent of the United Baptist church. On a recent Sunday they held a special anniversary service for the deacon, with a fine original program suitable to the occasion.

Nova Scotians await with interest the development of the proposed Petitedale power project. The report of the engineers is to be on tap any time now. Premier Jones has stated the cost of development might be as low as $97 per horsepower, which would make it cheapest in the world. A proposed tidal project in Great Britain is to cost $680 per horsepower.

Bills of Canada: Announcement of the death of the first soldier from G-we's Landing, Ont. to die in World War II came ironically at the conclusion of the V-E Day church service attended by all in the village, he was Roy Thackeray, 29. At Belleville, Ont. a woman walked into a butcher shop, asked for a roast in the refrigerator, told it was sold, whipped out a gun and got it. . . . At Bessville, Sask., Tony Schenkov's billygoat climbed in the cab of his tractor, drank two glasses of purple gas, and passed out forever. . . . At Bowmanville, Ont., a marriage united Dorothy Cook and George Mutton. . . . Ontario again holds the spotlight.

At Newmarket, two soldiers were convicted for breaking into a grocery store. One of them, minus a tooth, took a bite on a piece of cheese, later was traced through this. . . . The Alaska Highway News gloats over the story that Wayne "Skeeter" Boulton, who hails from Cling, got, sat down at the Pomeroy Cafe, ordered two dozen fried soft eggs and polished them off at one sitting.

For meals-in-a-hurry at any time of day—breakfast, lunch, between-meal snacks—clever housewives rely on Kellogg's ready-to-eat cereals. They're ready to serve in 30 seconds . . . need no mixing or cooking. Easy to digest. Economical, too!

Peace Garden

Memorial To A Great President And Good Neighbor

The Peace Garden seems a most suitable place for a memorial to a great president and a Good Neighbor of Canada. Situated in the Turtle Mountains of Manitoba and North Dakota, the Peace Garden is close to the geographic centre of the continent, and has been developed by citizens of both Canada and the United States. It was designed as a memorial to the long-standing friendship between the two countries and as a pledge to the continuation of the harmony which has endured for more than a century.

Certainly the International Peace Garden seems an ideal location for the building of a lasting tribute to the man who above all others contributed to the deepening and broadening of that harmony. . . . Winnipeg Tribune.

MEAT STRETCHING EXERCISE

One, two, three—STRETCH! It isn't the newest reducing exercise just the routine of a thrifty housewife planning this week's meals. For stretching budgets, without sacrificing wholesome goodness and appetite appeal in these three-times-a-day meals is one of the basic and vital jobs of home-makers today.

An important culinary trick for stretching the budget—and making thrifty main dishes even more inspiring to the appetite—is to use crisp cereal, that familiar breakfast staple, in a wide variety of main dish specialties, as a delicious extender of protein foods.

The mild, but distinctive flavor of these crisp flakes of corn proves a perfect flavor-complement for all sorts of meats and fish—for meat and fowl leftovers too. The use of prepared cereal as an extender for meat dishes is a time-saver for busy home-makers, for corn flakes, crisp and golden brown, roll easily to crumbs of any desired fineness.

A tip for good cooks is that the simplest method of preparing crumbs for meat loaves or any cooked dish, is simply to wrap corn flakes in a clean towel, making sure that all ends of the towel are carefully tucked in, and apply the rolling pin with a light hand. It is the work of seconds to produce crumbs of just the proper fineness.

"Take it easy, Darling!"

Firestone

THE ONLY SYNTHETIC RUBBER TIRE

PROVED ON THE SPEEDWAY AT 100 MILES PER HOUR

Car owners have been wondering just how safe synthetic rubber tires are—just how much mileage they will give. Firestone decided to put its tires to the supreme test. So a race car was equipped with regular, stock Firestone Synthetic Rubber Tires, the same as you can buy for your car, and raced for 300 miles around the Indianapolis Speedway under American Automobile Association supervision.

Without Show, famous three-time winner of the Indianapolis Sweepstakes, volunteered to make the run. And he averaged 100.5 miles an hour, hitting more than 135 miles an hour on the straightaways! Imagine the punishment those tires took as they pounded over the rough brick and grinding asphalt—equal to 50,000 miles of ordinary driving! Yet, in this grueling, tire-torturing test, not a skid or blowout occurred.

Remember this fact when you get permission to buy new tires—Firestone are time. The millions that are safely proved on the speedway for your protection on the highway.

WARNING—The tire who better, and more critical today than ever before, and can't get better far over before. The only hope of keeping cars safe is to continue to observe extreme speed limits and other similar, yet broader, mental precautions which have proved so successful in conserving lives and property. Firestone Dealer will help you see him today.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO GET HOLIDAY JULY 2

Dr. G. F. McNally, deputy minister of education, said last week that more than 150,000 Alberta school children will have a holiday on July 2, as Dominion Day, July 1, falls on Sunday.
He also stated that all schools in Alberta will close for the summer holidays on July 6th, and re-open for the fall term on September 10.

A team is a bunch of people all doing everything they can to help another guy score.
